

From: Transactions on Information Systems onbehalf@manuscriptcentral.com

Subject: Manuscript Accepted – Please Update TOIS-2025-0414.R1

Date: February 2, 2026 at 7:11 PM

To: pabadeh@uoguelph.ca

Cc: z-m@tsinghua.edu.cn, clarissa.nemeth@kwglocal.com, pabadeh@uoguelph.ca, znorian@torontomu.ca, fzarrink@uoguelph.ca, aghenai@torontomu.ca

Dear Mrs. Parya Abadeh:

Congratulations on the acceptance of your manuscript, "Music Listening, Mental Health, and Stress: A Computational Framework for Personalized Analysis and Recommendation". Your paper has been returned to your Author Center. You will find it under "Manuscripts Accepted for First Look." Within two weeks, please upload your final files according to the instructions below:

1. The final pdf of your paper (compiled from your final source files) – to upload as Main Document.
2. Zipped source files* (editable Word or LaTeX files along with bibliography) formatted according to the style file found at: <https://www.acm.org/publications/authors/submissions/>, and any high resolution figures (if applicable) in .jpg, .png, .tif, or .eps format.
*Upload these files in the "Supplementary Files" designation.
3. If you have any supplementary online-only material (text and/or multimedia) for publication in the Digital Library, please provide a brief description of your material. A short "readme.txt" file will appear in the DL along with your supplementary material describing its content and whatever requirements there are for using it.

*IMPORTANT: Your zipped files should not be unpacked! 1. Delete previous files. 2. Upload your pdf as "Main Document (PDF)" as the first file. 3. Upload your zipped files, selecting the "Supplemental Files" designation. 3a) If a supplemental file exceeds 100MB, load it into a separate zip. 4) Click on PDF to view your paper, then click "Save and Continue."

CONFIRM ACCURACY OF PAPER INFORMATION

- ACM requires that an author's first-listed affiliation on the manuscript title page must be where the majority of the work for the submission was completed. A newer affiliation may be listed as a second affiliation. The affiliation(s) should also match the submission system account affiliations.
- Please check for correct spelling, capitalization, and hyphenation in the title; correct spelling, capitalization, and use of middle initial(s) in each author name; and correct department, city, and country for each listed affiliation.
- Review and confirm that the title, author information, and author affiliations are correct and complete as entered in the submission system data fields. The information in the submission system should exactly match the information listed in the final manuscript file and should be checked and then confirmed on the rights form when finalized.

Please also include:

1. Computing Classification Systems Terms: <http://www.acm.org/about/class/2012>
2. Additional keywords and phrases

Just Accepted Paper Version:

Beginning in January 2022, papers accepted for publication will appear online in the "Just Accepted" section of the journal's website prior to copyediting. Your paper will be published as Just Accepted after the following three actions take place: 1) your final paper updates and source files are approved by the journal's administrator, 2) the administrator sends your files to the production team, and 3) you submit to ACM the online rights management form for your paper. Once published, your article will remain online as is until the copyediting, production, and issue assignment process for the official Version of Record (VoR) has been completed. You will not be able to make changes to the Just Accepted version of your paper after you upload your final files via the submission system, and once it's published online. Prior to the publication of the VoR of your paper, you will receive author proofs from the production editor for your review and approval.

We encourage you to upload your final files as soon as possible so that your paper will appear online quickly, and so that the production process may begin. Once your final files have been approved by the journal's administrator, you will receive a system e-mail requesting that you submit your rights management form.

Please note that your paper will not be posted online, nor will copyediting begin, until your rights management form is submitted.

Third Party Material:

If you have material owned by a third party, you must secure permission for its use before publication can proceed. If this is the case, please carefully read the guidelines at <http://www.acm.org/publications/third-party-material> and:

1. Obtain written permissions from the copyright holders.
2. Add the appropriate attributions to the figure captions in your paper (giving credit to the copyright holder).
3. Include the source of the third-party material in the references.

All author rights forms are filled electronically through the ACM e-rights transfer application. For further information about your rights options, please visit <https://authors.acm.org/author-resources>. For questions concerning third-party material and/or rights management, please contact the rights management team at rightsreview_publications@hq.acm.org.

ORCID

Starting in 2021, ACM requires that all authors provide their ORCID at acceptance (and preferably at submission). To ensure a seamless process, we suggest that you ensure that your co-authors have signed up for an ORCID as soon as possible. Registering is easy and takes less than five minutes. To register, visit <https://orcid.org/register> or Register for ORCID.

ORCID provides a persistent digital identifier that distinguishes you from every other researcher and, through integration in key research workflows such as manuscript and grant submission, supports automated linkages between you and your professional activities ensuring that your work is recognized.

Kindly submit your updates as soon as possible to avoid unnecessary delays in production.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,
Transactions on Information Systems Editorial Office